Great and Useful Invention.
No more Mortality for want of Water.
Sure wealth to Estancieros
By the Robert Apparatus.

Being notorious the immense injury occasioned by the scarcity of water during the long seass that afflicts the camps of Buenos Ayres, I have determined to offer to the Estancieros the Robert an Apparatus at once simple and infallible for procuring as much water as they may require.

120 Bordalesen per hour (it seems fabulous) is procured with my apparatus, without fear of at any time its getting out of order.

This machine is worked by one horse, and in one day's work can give 1440 Bordalesen; that is to say, sufficient water for 20,000 head of cattle.

By these figures can be calculated the immense advantages gained by its use.

Another advantage is the facility of putting it together and taking it to pieces, so as to be able to transport it to any place where it may be necessary to use it, either for watering purposes or others.

GREAT MODIFICATION.

I have made an improvement in my Apparatus, applying a new system, which reduces the necessary force two-thirds, giving it at the same time more rapidity.

Those interested can see it at Calle Mayo, No. 106 (Hotel-calle, Paris).

One sole inspection of the Apparatus will prove to them the superiority of it over any other.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1863.

OUR NAVY.

Our remarks the other day respecting the actual state of our war steamers have fallen like a shell into the Minister of War's office, and nearly blew the cocked hat off his Excellency M. Jelly. Blacksmiths, engineers, and boilermakers have been running from the War Office to Martin Garcia as fast as a fair wind would carry them. President Mitre won't be put off with "never mind what the 'Standard' says;" that won't do now. He remembers his 'Guardia Nacional' experience, and he thinks there is something in it.

Now, it occurs to us that our remarks concerning Martin Garcia found echo in the proper quarter, a few observations touching the great Argentine Navy would not be amiss.

A system has been carried on for years in this place respecting our navy department, which reflects little credit on the sagacity of our rulers. We think it is time it should be abolished. Soldiers we have in abundance; officers and generals are to be met almost at every corner; but experienced mariners and captains, since the demise of Brown, where are they? The Government has the fault of all this. Instead of getting, say half a dozen good gunboats made to order, instead of having a few first class war steamers built in England or the States, it invariably prefers to be wasting the public money in purchasing some old, worn-out, exhausted passenger steamers, or, worse still, renting them for the occasion, converting them into war vessels, sending a heterogeneous mass of raw recruits on board, a little brass cannon for the poop deck, and, dictu mirabile! there is an Argentine war vessel.

When the war, or disturbance, which gave rise to the transmogrification of the steamers subsides, the boats are put up at auction, to be hired by whoever will pay the highest rent; the crew is paid off, the captains and lieutenants converted into fashionable clerks of the War Office, and in one month scarce a trace left of the powerful, the mighty, the renowned Argentine fleet! We hesitate not to say that if the clouds which at present hang over our political horizon are dispelled, in a few days after the steamers will be so also, and we we may expect to see things put up again and knocked down to the highest bidder.

The arming of Martin Garcia we regard as a sound and necessary step; but it is perfectly useless if more attention is not paid to our navy. President Mitre will just like us to say if, yet not firmly believe it to be a fact, that with all our steamers, we have not one vessel able to take the 'Villa del Salto;' not one even able to catch her; they would burst their boilers, or blow their sides out, if they put on half the steam necessary to even keep up with her. What is the use, therefore, of disguising the fact, that the present Argentine navy is a perfect sham, and that sooner all these passenger steamers are sold off, and a few good gun-boats put in their stead, the sooner will the navy up to maintain, without fear, the sovereignty of the rivers and the integrity of the nation. Experienced men should be named as inspectors; men who know more about a bolt or a screw, than of a billiard ball or dominoe.

Not one of our colleagues have said one word about this explosive navy; but if it should so unfortunately happen that hostilities are resorted to, the truth of our remarks will be then proved.

Owing to the natural position of Buenos Ayres, the capital of this nation, we feel that the navy should be more attended to than even the army. Soldiers can be made in a few days, but it takes years to make a good sailor, and yet, strange to say, sailors are more hastily manufactured in the River Plate than soldiers.

A few Brazilian gunboats in the Plate would cost less, and be far more useful, than we had Guiard's line of steamers in port. One million and a half is about to be spent in fortifying Martin Garcia. If properly done, there never was money better laid out, but with those unlovely old Argentine guns, fit more for carrying paving stones from the island than to defend it. Every dollar so expended is thrown away.

Six good gunboats, well officered and manned, Martin Garcia well fortified, and the Argentine Republic is the strongest nation in the whole of South America.

THE JUSTICES OF THE PEACE

Politicians say that the National Government is beaten hollow, that Mitre has no chance; that, in fact, the list of new justices of the peace has been sent in as an argument, and that next year the whole National Government will be turned out bag and baggage from Buenos Ayres.

We confess that it never, for one moment, entered into our head that these rustic rulers had any such influence; but if they have, it only goes to show the rotten mechanism of this patched up Republican Government.

A close observer of our affairs has remarked, that if the greatest care is not taken by our rulers, the next Montoneros will be in the province of Buenos Ayres; and, candidly speaking, when we read all the disputes and arguments going on, we fear our friend is not far astray. If the country does have it in their power to make their own peculiar but inexperienced opinions prevail in the councils of the nation, we have serious apprehensions of our future, as we are led to believe that the parties named for the ensuing year have no great qualification, than hostility to the National Government.

It is strikingly amusing, that although Mitre is President of the nation, and residing amongst us, we hear from nobody now-a days. The Juez de Paz of San Vicente, is by far a more important personage. If the nation requires money: if the Government requires a loan, to develope the industry of the country, foreign capitalists should not know right of his face, but the country judges are the men to consult. Their influence amongst us is supreme: their will is law.

It is the greatest mockery of institutions, the greatest farce of constitutional administrations, to think that the destinies of the Argentine nation are placed in the keeping of the justices of the peace. A fig for their influence—a straw for their politics. The country justices of the peace should be nothing more than a sort of head bailiff or deputy sheriff. He should be paid a fair salary for his services, and if he meddled in politics, or omitted to do his duty, should be dismissed from service and punished accordingly.

Argentine affairs are indeed arrived at a melancholy pass, if the ruler of this nation must bow to the influence of a Juez de Paz, or court the support of a teniente alcalde.

We do say that the ruler of this nation is unfit for the trust reposed in him if he cannot govern without them, but the grossest delusions—that constant wars are our inevitable fate—if the justices of the peace have usurped such a power, or are armed with such an influence as is represented.

A justice of the peace should have his vote at the election the same as every one else, but nothing more.

As individuals, we have nothing whatever to say against justices of the peace. Many of them, in the absence of sound judgment, good manners, and polite education; but, as a body, as the arbiters of the country's destiny, they are open to the most serious objection. If the justices of the peace are the rulers of this nation, we call upon President Mitre to haul down the national escutcheon, and in its place put the lion, the bottle, and bolenderos, with the words underneath:

'In loco signo vinces.'

THE STANDARD ABROAD.

LOST IN THE WOODS.

Los Cerricines, Dec. 3, 1863.

The scenery for a long league after leaving Sig. Casaccia's was diversified, and little broken by human habitations: meadows on which grazed some horned cattle and an occasional flock of fifty poor-looking sheep, trees of lofty stature such as timbó (useful for tables and indoor objects), and lagoons of much extent studded with flowery islands. Our destination was the house of the Justice of the Peace, Snr. Sabao, at which we arrived at about nine o'clock, but found this gentleman had gone to Carrientes the day previous. Mr. Lix asked if a boy could be procured to show me the cotton plantations, but although two fellows were lazily lying in the shade, they declared it impossible, and surveyed us contemptuously. He then asked permission of Sabao's wife to leave me, until he would go into the city, and send Sabao to be my conductor. The old lady, with bare legs and bosom, at first demurred, but her daughter consented and handed me a chair, whereupon Mr. Lix, who was in a hurry to reach his office in the bank, took our guide and started for town.

Justice Sabao's dwelling was a wretched hut whose furniture consisted of a wretched bed, a few benches, a rough bench, a couple of chairs, and two large mats from which were suspended some articles of female finery, embroidered petticoats, &c. While I sat under the verandah smoking, the mother and daughter began to play at cards for a bottle of gin, and I was curious enough to look on: the game was called Vizcambra, but as they chaffed in Guarani I could not pick it up. Another gentleman was working 'crochet' at the window. The game over, a servant came to cook them a piece of the 'ybirapuc' or dried beef which hung from the roof, for breakfast. Presently however the matron said "a steam is coming on." Such in fact I ran for my horse, fearful that the roads might be come impassible in case I was overtaken by bad weather. As I'm coming up on horseback, I asked him if he were going to Corrientes, to which he replied "Yes, tomorrow morning." I offered him my company to accompany me to be painted to the dense black cloud and smiled. A terrible wind now arose, and people were running into the house, while the daughter of Sabao begged me to risk my life in the desperate attempt to reach town, alone, and in the midst of a fresh gale. Finding

AMERICAN ITEMS.

The latest war news this week is the very important item that the army of the Potomac has fallen back to the neighbourhood of Washington, and that the rebels are in and around the old battle field at Manassas. What Lee's intentions are no one seems to know; some think he intends to invade Maryland once more, but that is not at all probable, as it is almost too late in the season for that, since the Fall rains would place so many swollen rivers in his rear, and besides, we think he got enough of invasion last July. The probable cause of his advance is to find out the strength of Meade's army, as it is well known that he sent several thousand of his men to increase Rosecrans. He thought he was weakened, and could be taken at a great disadvantage but in this he was mistaken, for there fur Meade is allowed to have got the best of Lee in the game of strategy, and any advantages gained were by our forces, as at Bristoe Station. At present writing it is not easy to tell what the upshot of all this manœuvring will be—whether or not the armies of Lee and Meade will have a battle. No feats are entertained for Washington—but is safe enough from any forces Lee can bring against it.

Affairs in Rosencrans' Department have not changed since our last. Bragg's army is still in his front. He has been sufficiently reinforced, and there is no anxiety felt for his army. There are no signs of a forward movement by either forces. The rebel cavalry raids on Rosencrans' communications have been thwarted, and defeated, as stated in the General's dispatch.

No particular news from Charleston. The rebels made a desperate attempt to destroy the Ironsides by sending down a torpedo charged with an immense quantity of powder. It exploded directly under her bows but did her very little injury. Gillmore was still erecting batteries, and it was stated that another attempt would be made to destroy the Ironsides, as she is the only iron-clad of which the rebels seem to be afraid.

From other departments we have nothing new. Banks advancing successfully towards Texas.

IRELAND.

A decided novelty in the way of "Testimonials" appears in the 'Dublin Evening Post,' the presentation of a valuable piece of plate, with an address, to the Protestant rector by his Roman Catholic parishioners, the parish priest himself being one of the subscribers. The gentleman who has won this remarkable distinction is the Rev. C. S. O'Grady, for 15 years rector of Athlone, in the county of Limerick. The subscribers gratefully acknowledge his ever ready and kind advice, constantly given to those who needed it, and his numerous acts of charity, and they observe that to thus marking their sense of their many obligations to him and his family "they are only performing a work of love and duty." Referring to the piece of plate, they observe that "the spirit in which it is offered is not less genuine than the metal of which it is composed."

The Rector, replying, said that his constant habit had been, since he came among them, "to make all live happy and comfortable every where." Mr. O'Grady is said to be the nephew of the late Chief Baron O'Grady, entertained at a dejeuner the members of the deputation who presented the address. This réunion reminds us of a past generation, when the parson and the priest lived together like brothers, eschewing polemics. Now such cases are rara inantes in quigite ranis.

LOCAL EVENTS.

Bouricat.—A meeting of creditors is called for Monday next. We under stand that the far-famed but unknown author of De Boots will attend.

In the Sun.—We published a sale of wool at 103 in the shade the other day. On Friday there was a sale of 200 arr. made at 124 in the sun.

Great Bargain.—Three thousand yards of canny, by two thousand five hundred wide, is offered for sale by Sor. La Lorre, in Zarate. 'It is the greatest bargain we hear of.

The Weather.—Nothing could be more favourable to the camp than the present state of the weather: almost every day we have showers. On Friday night it rained a good deal, and on Saturday morning it came down in torrents.

For Montevideo.—Geo. Kean runs a boat down to the Mount on Tuesday: letters $20 per, papers gratis, passengers we don't know how much, but suppose they go like newspapers.

Break-neck Performances.—People anxious to see a man doing the most break-neck acts, and performing in the most extraordinary manner with a lady on his back and he on a tight rope, should go to Colon to night.

Fraternal Society.—The object of this society we believe is to afford public instruction to the poor colored children. A meeting of the members of this truly charitable society was held yesterday, and we are happy to say that it is in a most flourishing condition and doing a deal of good.

Patagonia.—We are happy to see that the salt from Patagonia is coming down once. It is really lamentable to see us importing salt from Cadiz, when we have enough for all purposes in this Province. The Brig Cornelia, Susanna arrived on Friday from the Rio Negro with eleven hundred fanegas of salt to D. C. Gowland.

Forgers.—A well-assorted gang of forgers, counterfeiters, &c., has just arrived from Montevideo. We hear that they find a great difficulty in getting a proper place to commence business. We put Mr. Canot on his guard, as we hear that they have plates for every note in the $10 upwards.

Last Suite.—In this country people know much less of law suits than at home. There is at present on the list in the hall of Martinez merely the suit Widow Corcoran. We are not in the exact possession of the merits of the case, but believe them to be simple, some land of a well known gentleman named San Martin, and paid some 20,000 dollars down Subsequently, however, the cause we know not, San Martin sold the land to Martinez, who now brings his action to evict the widow. In which case we are inclined to think will be no easy matter, according to Woolfali.

Montevidean Wools—The wool market in Montevido is considerably better than here. The present price paid for good Mestiza wool in the barrasas, is 5 pats to $8.20 (a.)

Poison—We caution our readers against the poisonous pieces of paper thrown at night time in the streets. We hear that the poison law is again in force, so people must take care of strychnine.

Extravagance—We perceive that no less a sum than forty thousand dollars has been granted by the Chambers, to be appropriated for the printing of the acts of the Legislature for the years 1863 and '64.

Defensores de Mimores - Government has appointed Dr. D. Elias Saravia and Dn. Felipe Otarola to act as 'Defensores de Menores' for the ensuing year.

Defensor de los Pobres—Dn Alejo de Nevares Trespalacios (what a name for the defender of the poor), has been named by Government as the 'Defensor de los Pobres' for the ensuing year.

Municipal Elections—Will come off to day in the parishes where no 'mesa' has been named at last week. It is said that the supporters of Dr. Mezquita, not being very confident as to the approval of the Contejero returns, will again propose the candidature for some of the parishes. It is generally thought that there will be a row, and the parishes that at present have the most energetic, are those of San Telmo, Piedad, Pilar, Socorro, and Merced; in fact we fear that there will be the usual shouting, blows, and revolvers, and that after all another day will have to be appointed for a trial The fact of the matter is, the parties now are trying their respective strength, previous to the National and Provincial General Elections.

Club Libertad—Met last night at the Union Inglesa, but we have not yet heard the particulars. This club is composed of those who are known as "Orotes."

Hurts—The much-wanted rain has at last fallen, and we are glad to say that it has been general throughout the province. In some districts it has rained a whole day, so for the present estancieros are contented.

Governor Seaseden has recovered from his late indisposition. This news will be received with gratification by all who esteem this worthy gentleman.

Pleasure Trips—We hear many are 'sur le tapis' for to-day: and Belgrano, San Isidro, San Fernando, Flores, Moron, and Quilmes, will be found full of persons and their rich air seekers. No doubt, after yesterday's rain, the weather will be delightful, so we would advise our friends to take advantage of the cool weather.

Club Nacionalista—Met on Thursday, and named General Hornos president. The site selected for their meetings is the Casa de Estranderos, of whatever memory, and of course their opponents make the most out of this fact; and the 'Comercio' says in for some odious comparisons, which we cannot at all see, and more especially as the present question is only a split amongst "compadres."

Colon Theatre—This night opens its doors to all who wish to see Mr. De Lave's break-neck feats. We are assured that the performances will be well worth seeing.

Movement of Troops.—The second of the Line should have left Cordoba on the 14th to garrison Rosario, the place being taken by the 'fighting 6th' under Colonel Arredondo. We understand that their stay at Rosario is only for the moment, President Mitre evidently wishing to have a good force at hand in the event of an emergency. To be forewarned is to be forearmed.

Pesos Colon—We would advise all our readers, who are tired of the everlasting Retiro, to take a stroll to the new promenade, which is well worth seeing.

Northern Railway—We hear steps will be taken to prevent the next rushes at the several stations on this line The taking of tickets in the carriages, we believe, has already been discontinued. Let the directors attend to the voice of the public, and they will meet with every support.

Oriental War—This most extraordinary struggle has, by mutual consent of those interested in it, come to a standstill. The Government, and General Flores, have both temporarily relieved their troops. Of the 'filibusters,' we have already given an account. Lamas, Lar, Manuel Agenor, and H. Bustamante, who have come over to this side to pass the Christmas holidays. Some of the 'Amarillas' and 'Vicentinos,' are also expected next week, when a grand dinner will be given at the Hotel de la Paix, previous to turning over a new leaf for 1864.

Important Wool Sale.—We learn with much pleasure that Mr. Peter Healey, of Pilar, sold his wool at the very high price of 103. This speaks highly for the character of Mr. Healey's sheep.

LEA AND PERRINS'

CELEBRATED

Worcestershire Sauce.

The great success of this "delicious condiment" has induced the signal for the appearance of many "spurious imitations" totally different in "flavor" and destitute of the "digestive properties" of this Sauce.

Purchasers are earnestly requested to ask for

ALL CURES MADE EASY!!

BY

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Bad Legs, Ulcerous Sores, Bad Breasts, and Old Wounds.

No disease of the skin, however severe, can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The severest cases readily succumb to its influence, in which it has continuously acted, sound flesh springs up, healthy action is established, and perfect cures are effected in all cases of Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Old Wounds, Sore Heads, Piles, Fistulas, Sore Throats, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Scurvy, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Nipples, Skin Diseases, Elephantiasis, Lumbago, Sciatica, Gout, Rheumatism, Gout, and Neuralgia.

Nothing has the power of reducing inflammation and curing pain in these complaints like this Ointment. Even in lowly's swelling ulceration and purifying fluids. Whatever may be the constitutional derangement, or disease, it disappears from the system, whether an ulcerous sore, or disorganization of the liver, stomach, or kidneys. Holloway's Ointment is the only remedy that can be relied on in such cases. In all bad cases of sore throat, whether of the tonsils, uvula, or throat, it should be used in connection with the Pills.

Sore Throats, Diphtheria, Quinsey, Mumps, and all other Derangements of the Throat.

On the appearance of any of these symptoms Holloway's Ointment should be well rubbed into the throat twice a day, night and morning, and the upper part of the chest, so as to penetrate to the glands, and by the internal use of Holloway's Pills the system will soon recover its tone, and all the symptoms disappear. The worst cases will yield to this treatment, if persevered in for a reasonable time.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs	Chilblains	Fistulas	Sore-throats
Bad Breasts	Coco Bay	Gout	Scurvy
Burns	Chigoe	Lumbago	Skin Diseases
Bunions	Corns (Hard)	Piles	Scald Head
Coco Bay Sores	Elephantiasis	Rheumatism	Ulcers
Chigoe Sores	Bad Joints	Sciatica	Wounds
Chapped Hands	Ringworm	Sore Nipples

Offices—87 calle SAN MARTIN.

The want has long been felt of an establishment wherein the frugal and laborious citizen might deposit his savings, so as to have no risk, and reap at the same time a good return.

This institution is calculated to answer such a purpose on lending the benefits of the establishment to even the humblest classes.

Public attention is, therefore, specially called to the manner of subscriptions, and the inversion of funds, according to the rules of the association.

The PREVISORA ARGENTINA will receive subscriptions as follows:

1st. On one's own life, in shares of 85 silver each. These subscriptions liquidated at any time at the subscriber's time and option.

2nd. Without loss of capital by death of the insurer. Subscribers will be entitled to compound interest on their subscriptions and the proportional interest forfeited by the death of other shareholders in their Class, whose capital, however is returned.

3rd. With loss of capital and interest by insurer's death. All shareholders of this class shall gain compound interest on their subscriptions, besides a proportional part of the capital and interest of all such as die in their Class.

All these subscriptions may be paid weekly, monthly, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly.

The capital of the Company shall be invested only in landed property (finca), and with the greatest security.

The Board of Inspection, composed of subscribers, shall have charge of all the operations of the Company.

For further particulars, apply at the Co's office 87 calle S. Martin (altos) between the hours of 11 — 4; prospectuses given on application. n17

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA & C°.

— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the two great companies of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co, in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary, for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their Buenos Ayres September 10th 1860.

WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p$] per annum which is liquidated every six months.

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

No more Scab in Sheep.

Patented by Government.

General Store in Buenos Ayres at 265 CALLE NUEVE DE JULIO.

Store at Villa Mercedes, of Messrs Kantz and Schwengel.

Store at Tapy, Establishment of D Carlos Geyer.

The shearing time being at hand, the Inventor of the Anti-Scab Specific for curing Cutaneous Diseases in Sheep, and all domestic Animals, begs to inform the Estancieros that it can never be applied to such effect as after shearing, when it not only cures the worst cases, but acts as a preservative against the disease.

The simplest method is bathing the animal, whether sound or affected, in the manner prescribed by the instructions.

The Specific has been already found an effectual remedy for Insects (Garrapatas).

Numerous certificates may be seen, showing the high repute of the Specific throughout S. America. Its low price places it within the reach of all, 25th. sufficing for 800 or 1000 Sheep. It contains no poisonous quality, and is sold at the above Depots.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS.

Dor.—Dr. Pongeard, of the London University Class.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been patronised by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is an exact reproduction of an English School, where a sound commercial education combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class European institutions of the kind.

An ever-watchful and constant supervision, and a strict maintenance of order and regularity, are a sufficient guarantee that the morals and behaviour of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, and Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, German, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar School, in one of the most delightful Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

For particulars apply for prospectuses at the Standard Office, Calle Bolgrano 74.
